

About Us

Since being established, Morrison Home Health has been attending to hundreds of patients in their homes. We understand how you would prefer to recover in your own residence instead of being confined in a hospital or care facility. Everyone has a home that they can picture out in mind. To every patient, home becomes synonymous to comfort. Where else would you like to be while managing your fragile health conditions?

Morrison Home Health enables you to enjoy the benefits of your home environment while receiving uninterrupted care prescribed by your physician. Because of our knowledgeable staff and long-term home care experience, you can feel confident that you or someone you love is receiving continuity of care.

Recovering from a medical condition, an injury or a major operation can have its challenges. Our part is to manage those challenges for you so you can speed through recuperation and get the lifestyle you want at home. Our long-term home care services will answer this requirement by matching a caregiver, nurse or therapist to your needs, schedule and home environment. We can also provide relief for primary family caregivers through short-term care.

Morrison Home Health encapsulates the definition of home care. With our mission to keep you as our priority, we are able to successfully answer to your health care needs at home – the best place to be.

Our Services

Morrison Home Health maintains a comprehensive range of health services through professionals: nurses, caregivers, therapists and social workers.

With the guidance of your physician, we can effectively design a plan of care that enables a smooth transition from the care facility to your own home.

- Skilled Nursing Care
- Physical Therapy
- Medical Social Services
- Home Health Aide
- Personal Care Assistants
- Companion Services

We can help you keep the highest level of independence at home as realistically allowable by your condition. The improvement of your health through the services we offer is the goal of Morrison Home Health. Leaving the hospital or care facility doesn't mean the care you receive can be substandard. This is all the more reason to raise the bar in quality home care services. Talk to us about your needs. Call 757-393-1300 today.

Employees-In-Service

Welcome

Chosen amongst leaders in the home health care services industry. Morrison Home Health is well-known for clinical expertise, quality-focus and patient dedication. Like a family, our priority is you. We are defined by the objective to serve your home health care needs right where you live. This objective is fulfilled one patient after another and one home at a time.

Helping patients live a lifestyle of value is what the Morrison family of caregivers, therapists, nurses and health care professionals work for. Every member of our team knows this fact and has taken this mission to heart. Our patients benefit from the core values of our company and this is what we are remembered for.

However, home health care is not entirely the application of clinical knowledge or the materializing medical breakthroughs today. The soul of home health care lies in the people who deliver the care to your homes – helping you live more comfortably despite injuries and illnesses.
